From Your Leadership

Steve Simenson

Dear APhA Foundation Contributors:

It has been a great experience to serve as president of the American Pharmacists Association (APhA) Foundation in 2019, and I am pleased to report what we accomplished during the year. With support from dedicated pharmacist contributors, volunteers, corporate sponsors and partners, fellow Board members, and staff, the APhA Foundation continues to carry out our mission: to improve health by inspiring philanthropy, research, and innovation that advances pharmacist-delivered patient care services.

For all that we have experienced and learned from others in our careers, it can only be paid back by sharing our knowledge and resources with others—paying it forward whenever we can. Developing new initiatives like the Remington Endowment Campaign is a prime example. Past Remington Honor Medal awardees have taken the lead with the APhA Foundation to permanently endow pharmacy's highest honor, the Remington Honor Medal. The Medal exemplifies and recognizes the achievements of the very best individuals in our profession, and donations large and small are being aggregated to ensure this prestigious award can be continued far into the future.

We continue to make good progress with our Diabetes Prevention program. In addition, our Research and Innovation program received a special honor, with Ben Bluml receiving the Chair Recognition Award for Outstanding Service in 2019 for our longstanding participation with the National Forum for Heart Disease and Stroke Prevention.

Consider the impact your support has on the career of pharmacists as students, residents, new practitioners, and experienced pharmacists. In 2019 you helped us award scholarships to 13 student pharmacists and graduates who are poised to become the next generation of leaders. This year we especially thank Ted Tong, Ed and Ann Hamilton, Betty Jean Harrison, Timothy and Diane Tucker, and Pharmacists Mutual for establishing new student scholarships. We are also grateful for the generous friends of Tery Baskin, who supported a scholarship fund in his memory.

We marked 26 years of the Incentive Grant program and awarded 28 Incentive Grants to residents and new practitioners to create new or strengthen existing patient care services in partnership with the Community Pharmacy Foundation.

We helped explore advances in pharmacogenomics and other cutting-edge pharmacist-delivered patient care services. With our Pinnacle Awards and the distinguished Jacob W. Miller Award, we honored and celebrated trailblazing individuals and groups that are transforming the pharmacy profession.

In 2020, we promise our renewed and continuing commitment to demonstrate how pharmacists can have an essential role in improving the quality of patient care outcomes. We are excited to foster the professional development of residents and students as they embark on their careers.

Thank you for your generous donations to the APhA Foundation. Thank you for understanding the importance of the Foundation in our mission to encourage innovation and advance pharmacist-delivered patient care services. By giving opportunities to pharmacist practitioners to practice at the top of their education and experience, we are improving the health of patients who receive pharmacist-delivered patient care. With your help, we look forward to another fruitful year ahead.

The APhA Foundation Student Scholarship Program

The APhA Foundation is pleased to offer APhA Foundation Scholarships to assist students in the nascent stages of their pharmacy career. Evaluated and selected for their potential to become leaders for the profession, the award honors student pharmacists who choose to invest their time in their school's APhA-ASP Chapter. In 2019, the Foundation awarded 13 scholarships and introduced 3 new fully endowed scholarships: Dr. Theodore G. Tong Scholarship; Pharmacists Mutual Community Pharmacy Scholarship; and Hamilton, Harris, and Tucker APhA-ASP Chapter President Scholarship.

Theodore G. Tong

Dr. Theodore G. Tong Scholarship

Theodore Tong created the scholarship in recognition of APhA's vital role in his own professional development and achievements in pharmacy.

My decision to fund an endowed scholarship is my way of giving back and having lasting impact. I have a deep appreciation for all the value I have experienced as an APhA member. I am delighted that for years to come, this new scholarship will provide financial support to individuals who are starting their pharmacy academic studies.

The Dr. Theodore G. Tong Scholarship endowment annually funds one $1,000 scholarship to a meritorious student pharmacist. The first scholarship will be awarded in 2020.

Pharmacists Mutual Community Pharmacy Scholarship

More than 100 years ago, Pharmacists Mutual was established to serve pharmacists and provide them peace of mind. As a true mutual company with no stockholders, Pharmacists Mutual's primary focus is on its members and the pharmacy profession. These scholarships are another way for the company to help advance the profession by assisting the next generation of pharmacists. This support would not be possible without our member policyholders.

The Pharmacists Mutual Community Pharmacy Scholarship is awarded annually to student pharmacists who have demonstrated academic excellence and a commitment to advancing the future of community pharmacy in the United States.

Hamilton, Harris, and Tucker APhA-ASP Chapter President Scholarship

Ed and Ann Hamilton, Betty Jean Harris, and Timothy and Diane Tucker established the scholarship in recognition of their long-term commitment to advancing the pharmacy profession at the local, state, and national levels.

We have had the privilege of serving our profession in a leadership role for many wonderful years. APhA is blessed with talented and passionate APhA-ASP Chapter presidents across the country, and we are excited to be able to honor and recognize the most outstanding student leader.

The Hamilton, Harris, and Tucker APhA-ASP Chapter President Scholarship awards five scholarships each year. The recipient must be enrolled in an accredited school or college of pharmacy and demonstrate outstanding leadership, academic excellence, pharmacy association involvement, and community service.

Dennis and Patricia Worthen APhA–ASP Presidential Award

The Dennis and Patricia Worthen APhA–ASP Presidential Award was established in 2003. This award recognizes the tremendous leadership provided to student pharmacists by the APhA–ASP President during his or her term in office. Furthermore, the award recognizes the significant personal and professional commitment by the APhA–ASP President and President-elect to advance the pharmacy profession. The individual is awarded a $1,000 stipend along with a mounted eagle statue. The APhA–ASP Presidential Award also recognizes the President-elect with a $500 stipend.

I am beyond grateful for Dennis and Patricia Worthen's generosity. Their kind gesture extends beyond this award, as they welcomed me into their family. They exhibit their love for the Academy and profession of pharmacy through their commitment to providing this award. Their support empowers me to be the best Academy leader and student pharmacist I can be. Thank you, Dennis and Patti!

Carl F. Emswiler Summer Internship in Association Management

In December 2010, the APhA Foundation dedicated the APhA Summer Internship in Association Management in honor of Carl F. Emswiler (1935–2009). Carl's wife, Jewell Emswiler (1923–2018), established the fund to honor Carl's innumerable contributions to pharmacy. The internship enables student pharmacists to gain experience in national association activities, pharmacy practice issues, educational programming, state services, scientific affairs, student affairs, public relations, and project management. Student pharmacists who are selected to participate learn about the many aspects of pharmacy practice and professional organizations, and their activities have a special emphasis on collaborative practice, which was an integral part of Emswiler's career.

The Ton Hoek Scholarship

The APhA Foundation established an endowed scholarship to memorialize A. J. M. (Ton) Hoek's commitment to the global community of pharmacists. In his role as CEO and general secretary of the International Pharmaceutical Federation (FIP), Hoek (1955–2012) built many global relationships in the pharmacist community. His leadership efforts resulted in positive collaboration for FIP, both within pharmacy and at the broader level of world health. The Ton Hoek Endowed Scholarship provides an annual stipend for a U.S. student, resident, or graduate pharmacist to attend the FIP Congress.

Amy Kruger Howard, PharmD
2019 Recipient

I have been fortunate to attend the Congress since 2015 with support from the University of Maryland, International Pharmaceutical Students' Federation (IPSF), and FIP. I applied to the Ton Hoek Scholarship to help me continue my engagement with FIP. Each meeting at FIP was a crash course in future planning from mentors who have traveled the path of global engagement before me. Even in my years as a student, the FIP World Congress was a platform to voice my thoughts on pharmacy education and a pharmacist's role in humanitarian aid.

2019 Recipients of Incentive Grants for Practitioner Innovation in Pharmaceutical Care

Enterprising young pharmacists are discovering new ways to advance patient care services and are employing APhA Foundation Incentive Grants to help them to accomplish their goals. Supporting research on topics ranging from behavioral health and pain management to patient care workflow, the APhA Foundation Incentive Grants for Practitioner Innovation in Pharmaceutical Care program provides recipients with seed money for their innovative community-based projects. And with increased funding support from our partner—the Community Pharmacy Foundation (CPF)—the Foundation was able to increase the number of 2019 CPF-matched individual Incentive Grants awarded from 9 to 14, paving the way for further innovation. The scope of impact is significant. As this map depicts, Incentive Grants have been awarded across the United States.

Preceptor Knowledge and Perceptions of Medication-Assisted Treatment in Indiana Community Pharmacies

In response to the current and ongoing opioid epidemic, Elizabeth's research aimed to characterize community pharmacist preceptors' knowledge and perceptions about dispensing and counseling on medication-assisted treatment (MAT) prescriptions (i.e., methadone, buprenorphine products, and naltrexone) in Indiana community pharmacies and the MAT resources desired to provide optimal patient care.

Eligible pharmacists were identified and given a survey to assess these objectives. By evaluating baseline knowledge and perceptions of MAT, the study's findings emphasize a desire for continuing education on this topic and may facilitate the creation of targeted educational resources that enable community pharmacists to provide optimal patient care for those using MAT to treat opioid use disorder.

of Mental Health First Aid and Perception of Community Pharmacists as Mental Health First Aid Providers

Katie explored the role of a community pharmacist in addressing mental illness by distributing a survey to patients visiting the pharmacy for a flu shot. A total of 358 surveys were completed, and the results of these surveys revealed information that informed the development of a Mental Health First Aid (MHFA) decision-making algorithm for the clinical team at Balls Food Stores. MHFA trains individuals on how to respond during a mental health crisis.

The survey found that of seven participants who screened positive for major depressive disorder (MDD), two patients remained untreated. The survey also found that 30.2% of participants had a history of wanting to talk to someone about mental illness and that a majority of patients (n = 286, 84.6%) reported unawareness of MHFA. The study found that patients may be more likely to trust and discuss mental health issues with a MHFA-trained pharmacist than an untrained pharmacist and concluded that an MHFA-trained community pharmacist can play a role in expanding awareness of MHFA and in counseling patients about mental illness.

Victoria's goal was to determine patients' perceptions of pharmacists prescribing pre-exposure prophylaxis (PrEP) for HIV prevention and sought to identify patient characteristics that indicated a greater likeliness to seek HIV pre-exposure care from pharmacists. The results of 117 surveys collected from patients at multiple pharmacy locations revealed that overall, patients have a positive view of pharmacists' knowledge and ability to prescribe PrEP.

When asked about their views of pharmacist prescribing in general, regardless of the type of medication or disease state, individuals were favorable, and a majority (39.8%) had no concerns. The main perceived concern about pharmacist prescribing in general is that participants prefer to obtain a prescription from their doctor, while the main concern about pharmacists prescribing PrEP is privacy. "With my research," Victoria said, "I hope to highlight ways in which community pharmacists can help with HIV prevention."

Daniel A. Herbert Incentive Grant

The Daniel A. Herbert Incentive Grant is distributed under the Incentive Grant for Practitioner Innovation in Pharmaceutical Care awards program. Established by Daniel A. Herbert (1943–2004), this Incentive Grant is awarded annually to a community pharmacy resident or recent pharmacy school graduate who is working to expand pharmacy services for which pharmacists are compensated.

The goal of Michelle's study was to help community pharmacists implement clinical services into the daily workflow to help improve patient outcomes.

Her study implemented position-specific roles to help establish a consistent comprehensive medication review (CMR) workflow that prompts pharmacy teams to focus on improving the number and quality of CMRs provided, battle anticipated barriers, and encourage patient engagement.

The research addresses the prevalent polypharmacy issue among older adults in America by evaluating the change in CMR completion rates after position-specific workflow integration is executed and examining the quantity and type of interventions generated by the CMRs.

The APhA Foundation Executive Residency in Association Management and Leadership

The APhA Foundation Executive Residency in Association Management and Leadership was established through the APhA Foundation Knowlton Center for Pharmacist-Based Health Solutions. The Executive Residency is a 1-year postgraduate training program steeped in the rich tradition of developing leaders within the professional pharmacy and/or health-related organizations.

Meaghan Freiter, PharmD

It's an incredible privilege to not only work alongside individuals driven to advance patient care, but also to play a part in showcasing pharmacists and student pharmacists from across the country who align their daily work with this same aim.

As the Executive Resident, an important part of my role is managing APhA Foundation programs that inspire research, innovation, and leadership, such as our scholarship and Incentive Grants programs. Watching these programs grow in scope and reach has been a highlight of my experience thus far, as the APhA Foundation continues to enhance the resources and platform offered to some of the profession's brightest future leaders. No matter where my pharmacy career may take me, I aim to continue to be an advocate for pharmacists' value and impact in improving medication use and overall patient care.

WOMEN IN PHARMACY LEADERSHIP DEVELOPMENT FORUM

Susan C. Winckler, President, Leavitt Partners Solutions

According to the U.S. Department of Labor, women represented 60% of pharmacists in the 2017 workforce. And the American Association of Colleges of Pharmacy (AACCP) reported that during the 2017–2018 academic year, women earned 62% of first professional pharmacy degrees.

Our annual Women in Pharmacy Leadership Development Forum is a gathering that responds to the APhA community's desire to address the issues of greatest importance to women pharmacists. Featured speakers examine how to address existing barriers to senior leadership and successfully navigate career transitions and also share strategies to pursuing work/life balance.

We thank Cardinal Health and Walgreens for their platinum-level sponsorship.

The 2019 Women in Pharmacy Leadership Development Forum featured speaker was Susan C. Winckler, RPh, JD. Her career is unique and includes experience in diverse settings. Launched from a platform of academic excellence in studying pharmacy and law, she has held roles in ever-widening rungs of activity, including health policy and senior management in government, nonprofit organizations, and the private sector.

Project IMPACT: Diabetes Prevention

More than one-third of the U.S. adult population is at high risk of developing diabetes due to early elevations in their blood glucose (prediabetes), and 90% do not even know it. The APhA Foundation and our partners believe that these approximately 88 million adults with prediabetes could benefit from the high accessibility of pharmacies and the clinical skills of pharmacists in receiving screening and detection for prevention of diabetes. By offering the proven CDC National Diabetes Prevention Program in conjunction with community pharmacy services across the country, we believe we can help stem the tide of the diabetes epidemic.

Benjamin Bluml, APhA Foundation Senior Vice President, Research and Innovation delivering 2019 CDC Diabetes prevention presentation in Atlanta

Project IMPACT: Immunizations Scaled Demonstration

Project IMPACT: Immunizations (*IMP*roving America's Communities Together) addresses gaps in vaccination coverage that pose a significant risk to public health. The project's pilot demonstrated that implementing an innovative care model with access to a patient's vaccine history at the point of care impacts the pharmacist's ability to identify unmet vaccination needs and increase vaccination rates for routinely recommended adult vaccinations. Using this model, pharmacists were able to achieve a 41.4% increase over previous industry best practice results. The APhA Foundation is now completing two scaled demonstrations of the FIP international award-winning pilot and expects to publish results of those initiatives in 2020.

22nd Annual Pinnacle Awards

The pharmacy community gathered at APhA Headquarters in Washington, DC, on September 16, 2019, for the APhA Foundation's 22nd Annual Pinnacle Awards. The Awards celebrate significant contributions to the medication use process. Recipients in three categories each receive a crystal eagle statuette to signify their accomplishments.

The 2019 honorees were Rosemary Gibson, MS, who received the Individual Award for Career Achievement; Premise Health, which received the Group Practice Award; and the Norton Sound Region Children's Coalition, which was presented with the award for Voluntary Health Agencies, Nonprofit Organizations, Associations, Government Agencies, and Public-Private Partnerships.

On September 17, Gibson delivered a lecture, Our Medicine Chest, as featured guest speaker at the Pinnacle Awards Innovations in Pharmacy Practice Lecture, also held at APhA Headquarters. Gibson is the author of China Rx: Exposing the Risk of America's Dependence on China for Medicine.

Videos on each award winner and the lecture can be viewed on the APhA Foundation Facebook page at <https://www.facebook.com/APhAFoundation/>.

Cynthia J. Boyle, PharmD, FAPhA, was presented with the 2019 Jacob W. Miller Award among the crowd of supporters assembled for the APhA Foundation's Annual Contributors' Breakfast during APhA Annual Meeting. Established in 2000, the award commemorates former APhA Foundation president Jacob W. Miller, who served in the role from 1990 to 2000. Award recipients are honored for having advanced the APhA Foundation's mission through involvement in its programs, support of its initiatives, or leadership in carrying out its mission.

Boyle is a professor in the Department of Pharmacy Practice and Science at the University of Maryland School of Pharmacy. She also serves as a member of the APhA Foundation Student Scholarship Committee and is a longtime philanthropic supporter of the Foundation. In 2005, she funded the endowment of the Boyle Family Scholarship, which awards $1,000 annually to student pharmacists.

Contributors share a special bond whether funding scholarships, serving as volunteers, encouraging Incentive Grant applicants, or fundraising for research initiatives. The key to meaningful philanthropy is regular commitment at whatever level one can donate. I believe in the APhA Foundation, which supports people and promotes innovation. — Cynthia Boyle

The Bowl of Hygeia Award Program

In 2019, the APhA Foundation, with our partner, the National Alliance of State Pharmacy Associations (NASPA), gathered to celebrate the recent and past recipients of the Bowl of Hygeia Award: pharmacists across the nation who have distinguished themselves for establishing deep ties to their communities. During the APhA Annual Meeting in Seattle, APhA Foundation Board members and NASPA leadership commended these pharmacists for demonstrating exemplary service to their communities and cultivating substantive connections over time. For more than 50 years, this award has been presented to pharmacists in all 50 states, Puerto Rico, and the District of Columbia.

Philanthropic Contributors

On behalf of the APhA Foundation Board of Directors, we thank the following donors who made a charitable contribution in 2019. Their generous support is an investment in the future of pharmacy funding scholarships for those who demonstrate an early commitment to the profession. Their donations also make possible the expansion of projects in which we demonstrate how new innovative pharmacy practice models foster better care. These individuals and organizations sustain our efforts that demonstrate and quantify how pharmacists, as key members of the health care team, improve patient outcomes. Thank you!

REMINGTON ENDOWMENT

SHAPE THE FUTURE, HONOR THE PAST

Ensuring Perpetual Recognition

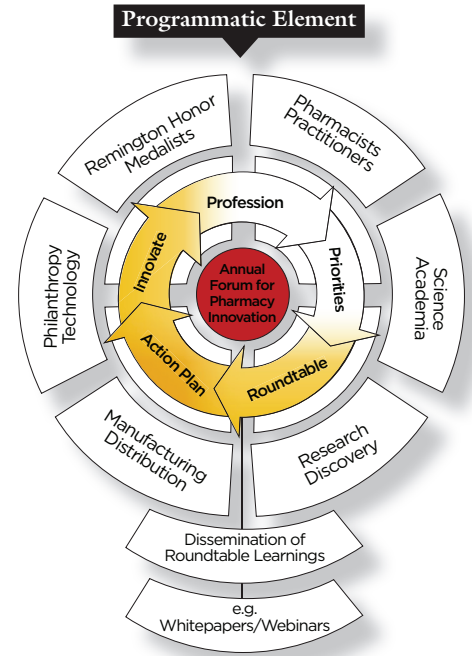

Widely recognized as pharmacy's highest honor, the Remington Honor Medal is named for eminent community pharmacist, manufacturer, and educator Joseph P. Remington (1847-1918). In 2019, we observed the 100th anniversary of celebrating the medalists whose lifetime of achievements have advanced the profession and patient care. In 2018 we launched the Remington Endowment Campaign. Our campaign goal of $5,000,000 supports two objectives:

Honor the Past

Support of the Remington Endowment will support the perpetual administration of the Remington Honor Medal, the pharmacy profession's most prestigious award.

Shape the Future

The Remington Endowment also funds the Remington Innovation Forum to foster pharmacy-wide dialogue about systemic medication use and healthcare challenges and the roles pharmacists can play to improve the system. The objective of the Forum is to marshal the collective wisdom of Remington Honor Medalists, healthcare industry leaders, and pharmacist leaders and stakeholder who have led the pharmacy profession to transformational advancement.

GEMUNDER FAMILY FOUNDATION

Joel F. Gemunder

Joel F. Gemunder is the trustee of The Gemunder Family Foundation, which was established to carry on philanthropic activities in research and education. Gemunder champions quality patient care and has held top leadership and advisory roles in numerous health care companies and organizations.

He served as president and CEO of Omnicare, Inc. and a member of its Board of Directors until his retirement in 2010. Gemunder is a private investor focused on health care investments. He is an avid supporter of the University of Chicago Booth School of Business.

MARIO FAMILY FOUNDATION

Ernest Mario, MS, PhD

Remington Honor Medalist 2007

Ernest Mario, PhD, began his long and successful career as a pharmaceutical researcher and had led numerous companies as CEO and member and chair of several boards. He has founded companies and navigated through mergers and acquisitions. Mario earned his MS and PhD in physical sciences at the University of Rhode Island and a BS in pharmacy at Rutgers. He holds honorary doctorates from the University of Rhode Island and Rutgers University, where the School of Pharmacy bears his name.

His reason for his leadership-level support to the Remington Endowment Campaign:

"We need to create a forum. We need to create a vehicle. That's what this is all about. We must raise sufficient money to create this ability to attract really important, smart, capable people with initiative and with ideas that can promote, hopefully, and keep pharmacy in its position as a leader in the health care team."

John A. Gans, FAPhA

Remington Honor Medalist 2008

The APhA Foundation is profoundly grateful for the leadership of John A. Gans, FAPhA (2008 Remington Honor Medalist), for his successful leadership as chair of the Remington Endowment Campaign.

1953 Society Contributors

Taking its name from the year the APhA Foundation was chartered, the 1953 Society is a group of pharmacists, new practitioners, and student pharmacists who show their leadership and commitment to the future of pharmacy through philanthropy. Pictured above are the 1953 Society contributors who were present at the 2019 APhA Foundation Annual Contributors' Breakfast held in Seattle.

These generous individuals provide annual leadership-level support of $1,953 or greater. The new practitioner and student support level is $19.53.

Their mission support funds scholarships and Incentive Grants that promote professional development of students and residents. Their contributions also enable the APhA Foundation to recognize excellence in pharmacy via the Jacob W. Miller, Bowl of Hygeia, and Pinnacle Awards. 1953 Society supporters enable the continued outreach to establish Research and Innovation Project IMPACT initiatives that demonstrate the value of pharmacists as key members of the health care team in providing quality patient care outcomes.
